PERSONALITY

Diligent (meticulous eye for style and grammar, easy-to-read semantic code).
Inquisitive (passionate about professional development, learning new technologies and following the news in the field of Front-End).
Analytical (notice and study the features of all sites I come across).
Realistic (don't tend to underestimate the time necessary for work at the expense of quality).
Team player (used to represent my organization at the regional level and actively exchange experience with colleagues).
Self-dependent (google and study the question first, then ask for advice).

HOBBY

Reading, translations from English, mixology, active rest. I'm interested in science fiction, and managed several fan groups in Vkontakte in the past.
